Each of the signs of the zodiac rules the sky (in the northern hemisphere) for 30.5 days (as opposed to the procession of the moon at 29.5 days). The Atlantean Calendar breaks this into 30 and 31 day cycles that re-synchronize every ten years (good enough math for game purposes).

What follows is month, day, and lunar data that is always accurate for the given year, and astronomical events that are representative for the year in question.

First Age dates are marked by "The Xth year of Rule of the Savant-King ZZ", as in "The 23rd year of rule of the Savant King Ozymandius". Record are fragmentary about which Savant King ruled in which order. Then there was a period of "Xth Year of Conquest", by the Hesperians, and then Second Age dates which are just "Xth year of the Sea Lord ZZ", starting with Toltan the 2nd. There have been 13 Sea Lords since the start of the Second Age, and it is currently Sea Lord Sumilon's 23rd year of rule (a Long Summer year).

The current Atlantean Calendar is based on the Year of Regency for a particular Sea Lord. The coronation ceremony is always on the first day of Ciallos in a Long Winter Year.
